Dear Warren Consolidated Schools,

At Carter Middle School today, a student had a written list of student names in her notebook that she titled "death list," prompting an immediate response from the administration and the Warren Police Department. The student was removed from school and is now facing very serious discipline and potential criminal charges.

Parents, please review with your children the seriousness of saying or writing things that will most certainly get them into trouble at school, even if they claim to be joking. Likewise, I recommend that you take time tonight to review your children's student planners, cell phones, and other materials to ensure they are using them responsibly, because the consequences are very severe.

If you have any questions, please feel to contact me at 586-698-4093. I appreciate your continued support and again, please talk with your children tonight.

Sincerely,

Robert D. Livernois, Ph.D.
Superintendent
